World Rowing Under 23 Championships General Information

The World Rowing Under 23 Championships showcase up-and-coming athletes who are too old to compete at the junior level but are still in need of further development to rank among top senior elite rowers. Held for the first time in 1976 in Macon, France, under the title “Seniors Match,” it eventually became the “Nations Cup” in 1992. FISA’s 2005 Extraordinary Congress in Dubrovnik, Croatia, voted to upgrade the World Rowing Under 23 Regatta to world rowing championship status. The first official World Rowing Under 23 Championships were raced in 2004. Approximately 600 athletes from 40 countries compete annually.

Račice/Prague, Czech Republic

The town of Račice was established in 1295 by King Václav II. Until 1960, it was a part of the town of Štětí, and from 1989, it has been a separate legal entity. In 1980, sand quarrying commenced in Račice, and in 1986, the rowing course was opened for the World Rowing Junior Championships. Račice is located 158 meters above sea level, eight kilometers north of the town of Roudnice.

Prague is the capital and largest city of the Czech Republic. Situated on the Vltava River in central Bohemia, Prague has been the political, cultural and economic center of the Czech state for over 1,000 years. The city proper is home to nearly 1.2 million people, while its greater metropolitan area is estimated to have a population of over 1.9 million. Prague is widely considered one of the most beautiful cities in Europe and is among the most visited cities on the continent. Since 1992, the historic center of Prague has been included in the UNESCO list of World Heritage Sites. Over the years, Prague has also been referred to as “the mother of cities” (“Praga mater urbium”), “the city of a hundred spires” and “the golden city.” Reprinted from the regatta Web site at <http://www.u23-2009.com/>.
